

General CSA Information

What is a CSA?

Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs provide consumers the opportunity to purchase fresh, local produce by providing the means to develop direct relationships with local farmers. CSAs are mutually beneficial for both parties. By paying in advance of the growing season, CSA programs support farmers by providing much-needed funds to cover the up-front costs associated with raising food. Consumers benefit by receiving a weekly box of the freshest crops possible; produce is harvested at its peak, resulting in a diverse offering of food unparalleled in freshness and nutrition. Many consumers enjoy the surprise of new and never before tasted foods, since it is not uncommon to receive fruits and vegetables one may never have cooked or even heard of, so joining a CSA requires some sense of adventure and creativity!

Benefits for you, benefits for the farm!

By becoming a member of the Harvest Moon CSA, you are choosing healthy, high quality, safe food for you and your family. As part of our CSA, you will not only receive a weekly box of fresh, local produce, you will directly support the efforts of our farm and other local farms. Here at Harvest Moon we grow over 20 different crops and each week our farmers walk through our fields and hand select the best of what's ready to put in your box. Our crops are harvested same day or only one day before pick up, which guarantees you receive the freshest possible produce. Our farm manager also makes weekly visits to local farms in order hand pick produce from their freshest harvests to supplement our offerings.

What's in the Harvest Moon CSA box?

As a Harvest Mon CSA member, you will reap the benefits of a wide variety of farm fresh produce, once a week, July through October. The produce that comprises your CSA box will vary each week depending upon availability, specifically what is actually growing and ready for harvest, so please be aware that you will receive some crops more frequently than others. We will send an email earlier in the week to all of our members with a list of what will be the probable contents of your share that week. We will also include recipes for you to try at home.

Every week, members will receive a different type of cheese from one of seven farms, all offering a delicious assortment of soft, medium, and hard cheese textures, and crafted from cow, goat and sheep's milk. Cheeses are individually packaged and range from 4 ounces to 8 ounces per package, and members can expect to receive one or two packages per week. Beef Share

We raise Scottish Highland cattle on our own land 60 miles upstate from Harvest Moon in Hillsdale, New York. Our cattle are raised entirely outdoors and roam freely across 1000 acres of open pasture. Eating grass all their lives, our animals have access to a rich and bio diverse diet that builds stronger, healthier, stress-free animals with superior immune systems. The result? Flower Share

We are pleased to offer you the option of adding on lovely local flowers to your weekly vegetable share this season! Each week you will receive one seasonal market bouquet featuring the freshest cut stems from our good friends Luke and Jenny at Tiny Hearts Farm. From zinnias to sunflowers, snapdragons to cosmos, and everything in between, we will work weekly with Tiny Hearts to feature a broad array of seasonal blooms over the course of the share. _____ Picking up Your Share:

Thursday 8:00am – 6:00pm

Members agree to pick up their box each week at our farm store within the pickup time window.

We guarantee freshness of boxes only during the pickup time. We are not responsible for freshness of boxes picked up after the pickup time.

_____ Vacation/Absence Policy:

If you are not available to pick up your CSA box for one reason or another, you can choose to have a friend, neighbor or family member come to the store to pick up your box in your place.

The longest we will hold your box is until Sunday (4 days). After Sunday, freshness is compromised and your box will be donated. Unfortunately, we do not have the means to handle absences any other way. Please ask to speak to a manager if you have questions about this.

_____ Substitution Policy:

We strive to provide you with both versatility and staple items each week, hoping that this will fulfill your produce needs. Therefore, you must take home what comes in the box. We apologize for any inconvenience, but we do not make any substitutions for individual boxes.

_____ Allergy Information:

Please call and speak to the manager if you have any severe allergy concerns. We will do our best to accommodate you.

_____ Milk Share Information:

Due to the nature of the way milk is received at our farm, if a minimum quantity is not reached for your specific type of milk to fulfill an order, you will be refunded the total amount for your milk share.
